CCC report

The Collaborative Care Coalition (CCC) has continued their mission to improve communication between the primary care practitioner and the specialist. Currently we are continuing our project comparing collaborative care with primary care for the treatment of glaucoma. The CCC also continues to present our past studies and the information from the ACVD survey of client satisfaction at various primary care conventions. These lectures also include information breaking several of the myths that many primary care veterinarians believe about specialists. These lectures have been well received by the veterinarians.

CCC continues to expand our partnership program with specialty hospitals. We are hoping by the end of the year to have this program up and running.

The board of the CCC is very thankful to the ACVD for its continuing support. Please contact me if there is something else you would like to the CCC to do the ACVD.

Thank you for your time

Sincerely

Dawn Logas
